

Diving Museum News

April 2016

e-newsletter of The Diving Museum, No2 Battery, Stokes Bay, Gosport, PO12 2QU

Diving Belles and Medals

Lady divers have made and continue to make, a major contribution to the world of diving. This talk by internationally renowned diver, raconteur and author is certain to make you reconsider that 'underwater' is a man's world!

Booking is necessary.

£6 Tickets are available via the Historical Diving Society website www.thehds.com/product-category/events/

Refreshments are included

Medals for Local Heroes Month

60 years ago our local hero Commander Crabb disappeared under suspicious circumstances in Portsmouth harbour. The Diving Museum has his medals on display and lots of information about this intriguing mystery. Children can come and make a medal for their own local hero. If you and yours has joined the Junior Diving Historians Club then there is now a special medal page for the logbook.

.....And of course there is our incredible collection which covers all aspects of diving and our really friendly and knowledgeable volunteer guides who are there to bring the exhibits to life with their own experiences of diving.

..... meantime keep an eye on our Facebook and Twitter to see what we are up to.

The Diving Museum is an outreach project of the Historical Diving Society HDS and run entirely by volunteers.

Website: www.thehds.com/museum/  www.facebook.com/thedivingmuseum

 www.twitter.com/diving_museum

Email: museumdevelopment@thehds.com To add your email address for e-newsletters, to cancel or for enquiries